

Cunard Partners with Michelin-Starred Chef Nathan Outlaw to Debut Outlaw's Fish Kitchen on Queen Victoria for Mediterranean Voyages

October 23, 2024

VALENCIA, Calif., Oct. 23, 2024 /PRNewswire/ -- Cunard, renowned for delivering exceptional luxury at sea, is proud to announce a new partnership with Michelin-starred chef Nathan Outlaw. Together, they will bring the celebrated Outlaw's Fish Kitchen* to life on select Queen Victoria Mediterranean voyages.

Guests will be treated to an exclusive culinary experience as Nathan Outlaw brings his award-winning Outlaw's Fish Kitchen to sea. Outlaw will personally oversee a series of intimate, five-course seafood tasting menus, featuring the finest Mediterranean ingredients, crafted with his signature flair.

The intimate, 60-guest dining events will offer an elevated seafood experience, combining Outlaw's culinary vision with the exquisite setting of the Mediterranean coast, ensuring every meal is a special occasion.

The trailblazing restaurateur and esteemed Rick Stein protégé will collaborate with the luxury cruise line to exclusively deliver a quartet of Outlaw's Fish Kitchen residencies aboard Queen Victoria during her Mediterranean season next summer.

The four-voyage series kicks off aboard a 14-night sailing from Barcelona to Civitavecchia (Rome) on July 7, with Outlaw sailing on the first seven nights of the voyage.

The wider collaboration

Whilst on board, Outlaw will host live cooking demonstrations and appear as an Insights Speaker in the Royal Court Theatre for a series of intimate Q&As focused on his rise to culinary stardom.

The news follows August's announcement that Cunard will reunite with two Michelin-starred chef Michel Roux for a new series of Le Gavroche at Sea takeovers across four Fjords voyages in 2025.

Katie McAlister, President of Cunard, said: "At Cunard, we take great pride in curating exceptional dining experiences and this collaboration with Nathan Outlaw is no exception. Nathan's reputation for excellence and his mastery of seafood perfectly complement our commitment to delivering the finest in luxury travel. We're thrilled to offer our guests the exclusive opportunity to enjoy Outlaw's Fish Kitchen while sailing on these beautiful Mediterranean itineraries."

Nathan Outlaw added: "Teaming up with Cunard is a really exciting opportunity and I can't wait to get on board Queen Victoria to showcase the very best of Outlaw's. Being able to cook vibrant seafood dishes as guests overlook stunning sun-kissed locations on the continent will allow us to deliver a fully immersive experience of Mediterranean cuisine. I am hugely passionate about this style of food and I am looking forward to elevating luxury dining at sea to create something really special for Cunard."

About Outlaw's Fish Kitchen

Outlaw's Fish Kitchen* is the TV chef's award-winning Cornwall restaurant, focused on fresh and original seafood plates. It forms part of the Outlaw brand alongside Outlaw's New Road and Outlaw's Guest House – all based in Port Isaac.

About Nathan Outlaw

As his name suggests, Nathan Outlaw's reputation is anything but ordinary. His career began early, working alongside his father, a chef, before gaining experience in London's prestigious five-star hotel restaurants. However, it was by the sea that Nathan truly found his forte.

Working under Rick Stein in Padstow, Nathan honed his skills and developed a deep appreciation for coastal cuisine. He quickly moved through a series of coastal restaurants, earning his first Michelin star at the age of 25 for The Black Pig.

In 2006, Nathan opened Restaurant Nathan Outlaw, which achieved remarkable success, earning two Michelin stars, four AA rosettes, and a rare 10/10 from the Good Food Guide. The restaurant was also named the UK's number one restaurant in 2018.

Nathan's latest venture, Outlaw's New Road, is a homage to the glorious Cornish coast and was awarded a Michelin star in 2021. Additionally, he owns the Michelin-starred Fish Kitchen in Port Isaac, which further showcases his culinary excellence.

Passionate about sustainability and local produce, Nathan Outlaw is dedicated to sourcing the finest ingredients from local suppliers, ensuring that his dishes are not only delicious but also environmentally responsible. His innovative approach to seafood has solidified his status as one of the UK's most esteemed chefs.
